PATHWAYS TO POSITIVE AGING

Creating Communities for a Lifetime

Wednesday, June 23, 2010

Experts and community leaders will present and facilitate an exchange of ideas about how America's cities can become better places in which to age; how to make age-integrated communities aging-friendly; and how to prepare for a rapidly growing aging population by creating "Communities for a Lifetime."

This symposium will benefit professionals in the field of aging, educators, caregivers, people 50 years of age and older and others interested in creating a community that is a good place in which to age.
